The Whole World is an Ecosystem

Imagine you drank a glass of water today. Ten years later, if you go to Antartica and drink a glass of water, probably one of the atoms you drank today will be in that glass. How did the atom get there? and what did it 'see' along the way....